

We have run it for U-Net Architecture using Handcrafted Pytorch code (How one would manually write it) and Graph Generated (Our Software Generated Graph). There is no significant performance drop on using the software.

Same goes for the accuracy too, both are almost equivalent in terms of accuracy.

